

PACKED

TM

A COMEDY ABOUT THE BONE-CRUSHING ISOLATION OF FATHERHOOD

LOGLINE

With a common need to bond over chaos, two hands-on dads turn to an app. Will they find their “pack” before the loneliness devours them?

SYNOPSIS

When you’re in the trenches of Parenthood, forming meaningful new relationships feels impossible. Luckily, there’s an app for that: WulfPak!

Jake, an exhausted extrovert, will bend over backward for “one more beer.” The problem is, he’s just not seeing eye to eye with his Dad dates. Or with anyone, including his own wife.

Andy, who would kill to share that beer in relatable silence, finds himself exasperated by the world of the often pretentious, sometimes cringey, but always hilarious parents who surround him.

Will these two cross paths before they give up on the digital landscape of Dad-dom?

PACKED is a webseries created by Jake Millgard and Patrick Zeller, currently in development as a full-length series.

EPISODES

Episode 1: “Co-Sleeping”

Exhausted and lonely, Jake decides (not) co-sleeping is the hill he’s ready to die on.

Episode 2: “Predator”

A predator stalks Andy in the early-morning hours.

Episode 3: “Sports-Ball!”

Jake swings and misses on his first dad date.

Episode 4: “Old Dad”

Andy finally finds an adult to talk to.

Episode 5: “Getting to Know All About You”

Andy navigates a social minefield with a new dad date, and makes it to the other side. Mostly unscathed.

Episodes are longer than alone time on the toilet but shorter than a work Zoom.

PRINCIPAL CHARACTERS

JAKE:

An eager-to-please extrovert who’s looking for a connection outside of his everyday life.

ANDY:

Devoted to his kids, but desperate for new interactions...with adults.
